

Domestic Use Disclaimer:*Bristol Water based Scenic Paints.

All our products are water based and predominately used for Scenic and Display, this is due to the high end colours we produce.

Being pure pigment colours, these paints have a superior hue as well as exceptional coverage and the ability to be intermixed to produce intermediate colours.

Our colours dry to a totally Matt finish, which is microporous and therefore not 100% water resistant.

Application:

For best results our paints should be applied over a stabilised, white primed substrate.

Should extra durability be required, we recommend application of a water based lacquer or clear coating, a wide range of which are available from any good decorating merchant.

We recommend a small test be undertaken to ensure suitability and compatability.

Our paints are not technically for exterior use, but if applied to a suitably primed substate will usually give very good service. Again a top dressing can be applied for added durability. This will though tend to slightly darken the original colour.

The high pigment colours will in time show signs of fading if exposed to the effects of direct sunlight (UV) exposure.